

Seven Fields Primary School-Newsletter

Dear Parents/Carers

Welcome back to the start of the second half of the academic year. I was delighted to hear the announcement from the government on Monday this week, that schools can be opened up to all pupils from 8th March. This is great news and I am looking forward to seeing everyone and getting back to normal.

There is new operational guidance that we have received and I will be writing further to parents early next week to outline in exact terms what our systems and procedures will be. We still need to remain vigilant and the school's approaches will be similar to those taken at the beginning of the Autumn term, with staggered start and finish times, pupils having different break and lunch times and remaining within their 'bubbles' as much as possible.

The extra insurance that we have is that, this time, all staff who attend the site will be completing twice weekly lateral flow tests as they have been since January. Staff have maintained this testing regime throughout half term as we consider it a social responsibility to do so.

Ofsted HMI additional inspection

As you know in the last week of last term we received an Ofsted inspection albeit remotely. We were pleased to have had the opportunity to share with the inspection team the improvements we have made since the last inspection in Autumn and we were also able to demonstrate the quality of the remote work we are providing. Inspectors were given full access to our Google classroom repository and were able to follow sequences of lessons. We also benefited from an open and professional discussion about the next areas for improvement which we have already started to action. When the final report is published you will receive a copy.

Finally, thanks for continuing to support our pupils with their work this week. We have another week to go before pupils can be back in full time and I ask that you do not let your vigilance slip and continue to support the remote education packages we are providing. In order for pupils to get the best possible return and to be in a good place to catch up quickly, the more time you spend supporting their home learning and ensuring they attend the live lessons, the easier it will be to get them back on track. One last push please!

I wish everyone a peaceful weekend and hope you can spend some time outside in the sunshine.
